

ECOSPHERE from CLOUDONE®

Develop a killer app. Not an ulcer.

Remember when development was simpler? When you could keep all the details of the plan in your head? When everyone working on a project was in the same room? The same timezone?

Nowadays, you've got vendors, contractors, employees scattered around the world, all connecting into your environment at all hours of the day and night – and you've got security, availability and support headaches 24 hours a day.

Until now.

Welcome to EcoSphere from CloudOne. It's a global workbench, outfitted with your custom selection of IBM Rational software and systems development tools, accessible and available around the clock and around the world.

Need to share your source code in a secured and controlled way? Check.

Have to invite vendors & suppliers into your embedded software project? Done.

Want to create a single, easy, simple to manage place for collaboration?

That's EcoSphere from CloudOne.
